HI-JINX, ANNUAL RAZZ FEST, IS NOT POSTPONED AS RUMORED

Sigma Delta Chi Will Publish "Dirty Socks."

Hi-Jinx, annual razz fest which is being staged this year by the women of the University, has not been postponed, according to Helen Maddock, manager.

Numerous rumors to the effect that Hi-Jinx has been postponed because of the prevalent colds and influenza on the campus and in Missoula have been circulated around the campus during the past week. But contrary to these the big show will appear Saturday, Dec. 15 at the Wilma Theater.

Members of the cast and of the production staff are cooperating and working diligently to make the show one of the cleanest, snappiest razz fests ever put on at the University. Cleverness is one of its greatest attributes. The 200 girls on the cast are practicing regularly and strenuously that their performance will be smooth and realistic.

Curiosity is a dangerous factor in the production of a razz show. Many clever attempts have been made by fearful or curious University men to steal, borrow or secure by other means the Hi-Jinx manuscript, or information concerning it. According to Helen Maddock, it will not be too late to change the manuscript or add to it until the show is over, and such attempts may be added. This is just a warning!

Because of their failure to get information, the men of the University swear to get revenge in "Dirty Socks," to be published by Sigma Delta Chi, men's national journalism fraternity and circulated at the Hi-Jinx performance. This sheet will be similar to "Dirty Sockettes" circulated by Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism fraternity, at last year's Hi-Jinx, except that it will contain dirt about the women, instead of the men, as published in "Dirty Sockettes."

JAPANESE ART TO BE EXHIBITED

Today Last Chance to See Etchings in Art Department.

Fifty etchings by Roy Partridge, head of the Art department of Mills college, California, are now on exhibition in Room 302, Main hall.

This exhibition, which has been on display since Friday, presents an opportunity to the students to see the difference in the style of an individual artist in contrast to those of a group, as portrayed in the last exhibition in the Art department. These etchings will be exhibited for the rest of this week.

A group of about two hundred Japanese articles will go on exhibition today at 3 o'clock. These are for the study of the "History of Art" class, which has been studying Japanese art lately, though they will be interesting to everyone.

The Art department plans on sending out a student exhibition to Lewistown sometime soon, as they have asked for such an exhibition. It will include about two hundred drawings and designs, representing the work of students in the department for the last two or three years.

"WIFE TO A FAMOUS MAN" BROADCASTED BY MASQUERS

"Wife to a Famous Man" was broadcasted from KUOM Thursday night at 8 o'clock. The play, which is an adaptation from the Spanish of Martinez Sierra was presented at the Little Theater last month.

Members of the cast are Evelyn Blasser, Margaret Sharp, Eleanor Dyer, Irene Murphy, Radcliffe Maxey, Dorothy Jordan, Curtis Barnes, Calvert Simons, J. Clark Kellet, Claire Francis Linforth, and Charles Johnson.

"Shall We Join the Ladies" by Sir J. M. Barrie was broadcasted November 19. Presenting plays to radio audiences is part of the regular work of the Masquers under the

EXCHANGE EDITOR FOR CAMPUS IS APPOINTED

Dutch Corbly Made Montana Correspondent to I. A. W. S. Bulletin

Dutch Corbly, a senior in the Journalism school, has been appointed exchange editor on the Montana campus for the conference bulletin of the Pacific Coast division of the Intercollegiate Association of Women Students. This bulletin is put out to help in an interchange of ideas among the schools of the division.

The conference bulletin is published each year from the campus of the university which will be hostess at the next convention of the various women's organizations on the different campuses. The convention next spring will be held at the University of Wyoming, Laramie. Louise Rhode of that school is the editor of this year's bulletin.

SPAIN DRAWING NEW ATTENTION

Exhibition to Be Staged in Barcelona and Sevilla.

Student globe trotters have a new experience to look forward to in 1929—an experience at once pleasurable and profitable. Spain, whose galleons and gold, grandeur and pomp, once were the envy of the civilized world is making a new bid for leadership in arts, industry, and commerce. All roads will lead to Spain in 1929.

The world which has heard little recently of the land of Castile and Aragon will again visit her Mediterranean shores, enjoy her hospitality, her blue skies, and her Latin beauty. In the gay and lovely city of Sevilla, and in Barcelona, industrial and commercial capital of Spain, will be staged two great international exhibitions of art, athletics, industry and commerce under the auspices of King Alfonso.

In significance and magnitude the exhibitions represent the most important economic events staged since the World War. Nearly seventy-five million dollars has been set aside by the Government and by Spain's leading industrialists to the success of the venture for which plans have been under way ten years. Sevilla will particularly emphasize arts, while Barcelona—city of merchants—will stress the industrial.

A. A. U. W. Holds Monthly Program

Helen Gleason Has Charge. Talks Are Part of Session.

Members of the Pre-school Child Study group, whose leader is Miss Helen Gleason of the Home Economics department at the University, had charge of the monthly program of A. A. U. W. held Saturday, December 1.

Mrs. R. C. Line and Mrs. R. P. McLoughlin gave talks on "The desirable features to be included in a young child's Christmas."

direction of William Angus. Last year several one acts were broadcasted. They were: "Riders to the Sea," "Danger," "The Dear Departed," "Cabbages" and "The Man Without a Head." Plays have been broadcasted from KUOM which were written for the radio and have special stage effects.

The Masquers' next major production will be "Twelve Thousand" by Bruno Frank. The play has never been produced in America. The rights are being secured from the German publishers. The play deals with the period of the American revolution and the Hessian mercenaries employed by the British.

COACH STEWART, W. E. SCHREIBER LEAVE FOR COAST

Rumor Larger Schools May Attempt to "Freeze Out" Montana.

Athletic Director J. W. Stewart and W. E. Schreiber, chairman of the athletic department of Montana University, have gone to Los Angeles to attend a meeting of representatives of schools belonging to the Pacific Coast conference which will open today. Football schedules for 1929 are to be arranged while there are numerous other problems to be settled at that time.

It is expected that Montana will have no trouble in securing games with Washington, Washington State, Oregon State, Oregon, and Idaho even though there is a rumor of the larger schools attempting to "freeze out" the others. One of the California schools may also be secured for a game next fall to take the place of a Northern school of the conference.

There have been numerous complaints against the present plan of having freshman teams play a heavy schedule and it would not be surprising to see a plan go into effect whereby the first-year football teams could play but one intercollegiate game each season. This would give coaches more time to teach the fundamentals instead of trying to develop winning teams the first year.

Schreiber has been appointed a committee of one to formulate rules governing college athletes who play summer baseball. The present rules are indefinite and do not fully cover all cases. Stewart is to act as the Montana representative in the scheduling of football games.

AMERICAN FORESTERS ELECT DISTRICT OFFICERS

C. D. Simpson, supervisor of the LoLo National Forest, was elected chairman of the Rocky Mountain division of The Society of American Foresters at a meeting held in the Forestry building last night. F. G. Miller, dean of the Forestry School of the University of Idaho at Moscow was elected vice-chairman and M. I. Bradner of the District Forest Service was named secretary-treasurer.

Business of the evening, aside from election of officers consisted of reports of the secretary-treasurer, of the membership committee, and of other standing committees and of a discussion of various matters pertaining to the society.

The society meets every other Monday in the Forestry building. At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served.

Dr. J. Richardson Is Campus Visitor

Dr. Jessie Richardson, who has charge of the research work in Home Economics at the experiment station in Bozeman, was a visitor in Missoula last week.

Dr. Richardson was a visitor on the campus Monday and Tuesday, and talked over plans with Miss Helen Gleason and Miss Anne Platt of the Home Economics department, for the study of the economics of farm homes, which she is conducting.

Advance Registration Begins Tomorrow; New System Tried This Year

Registrars Office Issues Informational Bulletin; All Students Must Present Handbooks to Receive Registration Cards.

Advance registration for the Winter quarter 1929 will be held this week beginning tomorrow. All students now in attendance at the University who plan to attend during the winter quarter must register at this time or they will be charged the usual late registration fees and will be assigned absences from the beginning of the quarter.

A new system of registration will be in force this quarter in that all students will receive registration cards Wednesday and Thursday and all will complete registration Friday.

Under this system cards will be distributed from all windows and will eliminate the lines and long waits that have been the case in the past. All students are asked to bring their handbooks at the time they intend to draw their registration cards.

Students who have a total of 70 or more credits will be given a summary of their restricted elective requirements. This is to show upperclass students just how they stand in this respect and to remind them to work off any required subjects before the last of their senior year. A very careful check has been made of the standings of all students and the reminder will serve to eliminate last minute petitions and in some cases an extra quarter of attendance.

The bulletin issued recently by the registrar's office contains, besides general instructions, information regarding petitions and their use.

Instructions and information regarding registration follow.

1. Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 5 and 6. All students should present their handbooks to the Registrar's office (Window No. 1) and secure registration forms.

2. Friday, December 7th, to Friday December 14th. All students should consult their advisors and complete advance registration by filling their cards in the Registrar's office.

Note: No one will be allowed to register from Saturday, December 15 to Monday, December 31, inclusive. See (1) below for regulations regarding payment of fees.

A. Do all writing with ink.
B. If you cannot write legibly, print the information requested on Coupons II, III, IV.
C. Do not detach perforated sections, except Coupon I of the registration certificates.
I. Consult your advisor in his office.

DEBATERS OFF TOMORROW TO MEET SPOKANE-IDAHO

Wohl and Young Will Go On Trip; Smith and Garlington Will Debate Here December 10.

Clarence Wohl and Robert Young will leave tomorrow to debate the University of Idaho and Spokane college. Jamesbert Garlington and Russell Smith will debate Idaho on the campus December 10.

Wohl and Young will meet Spokane college on the question, "Resolved, that the Russian plan of total disarmament, as proposed at Geneva, should be accepted." The contest with Idaho will be on the question, "Resolved, that the plan of temporary insanity as a defense of crime should be abolished."

Both Wohl and Young are experienced debaters. Young debated on the varsity team of the University of North Dakota and last year on the Montana varsity. He was a member of University teams which met Washington, Gonzaga and Mt. St. Charles.

Wohl is in his third year of debate for Montana. Last year he made the Pacific Coast trip and debated Washington, Willamette, British Columbia and Oregon universities.

The debate squad has been meeting every night for the past week, according to Hugh Lindsey, debate coach, and the teams are confident of success in these early debates.

Mrs. Edna McKinnon of Jersey City, N. J., is visiting her sister, Harriet Rankin Sedman, dean of women, this week.

WINNERS OF RADIO SINGING CONTEST RECEIVE AWARDS

Prizes Totalling $17,000 Are Distributed to Contestants.

Miss Irene Kelgore of Oakland, Calif., and Donald Novis of Pasadena, Calif., were judged champion singers of Far Western states in semi-finals of the Atwater Kent contest at San Francisco Nov. 12, and will compete in the national finals, which will be sung in New York December 1. The program will be broadcast over a countrywide chain of stations by the National Broadcasting company.

The Atwater Kent foundation will divide awards totalling $17,000 among ten finalists, representing all parts of the country. He represented Southern California in the first National Radio audition last year and sings over Station KNX, Los Angeles.

Second Place.
Those who placed second in the semi-finals were Miss Helen Copeland of Bisbee, Arizona, who, as contestant number 43, sang "To a Hilltop," and Gordon Edwards Cross of Spokane, Wash., introduced as contestant number 84, sang "Watchman, Will the Night Soon Pass?"

REINDEER FROM ALASKA WILL BE USED IN EAST

Santa Claus is putting his props in shape for his big annual show on December 25.

From out of the snowy fields of Alaska he has gathered a herd of reindeer which arrived at Seattle a few days ago. These have since been pastured at Kent, Wash.

On Wednesday the herd of thirty will become passengers in a baggage car on the Northern Pacific's Atlantic Express at the beginning of a long journey across the country. They are consigned to Newark, N. J. In the east these reindeer are to be used by Santa Claus to supply Yuletide atmosphere at large department stores and for other commercial enterprises during the holiday season.

According to C. H. Goodhue, manager, mail, baggage and express traffic on the Northern Pacific, other shipments of reindeer will be made within the next few weeks.

The Kent shipment will pass through the Twin Cities next Saturday, arriving in Chicago on Sunday, and will reach Newark on Monday.

EXHIBIT WILL BE DISPLAYED

Scientific Instruments to Be Shown in Forestry Library, 10, 11, 12.

Scientific instruments which have recently been developed in biological, physical, chemical and forestry lines will be exhibited in the library of the Forestry building Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, December 10, 11 and 12.

The exhibit will be held under the auspices of the Taylor Instrument company and Mr. McQuade, their representative, will give a series of lectures on the use and care of the instruments at 9 o'clock each morning. Evening lectures will also be given if needed.

Experiment station people of the United States Forest Service from this district will attend the exhibit. The exhibit was arranged, primarily, so that members of the Forest Service and students of Forestry may become acquainted with the newly developed equipment that might be used in Forest research. Those instruments used for the indication, recording and control of temperature, pressure and vacuum and also meteorological instruments will be of particular interest to the foresters.

On Tuesday from 9 to 11 o'clock Mr. McQuade will lecture to members of the Forest Experiment stations and to those in charge of plantings.

An attendant will be in charge of the exhibit at all times during the display and all are invited to view the instruments.

1928 SENTINEL RECEIVES FIRST CLASS RECOGNITION

The 1928 Sentinel, University of Montana year book, was given first class honor rating in the 1928 All-American contest in the senior division for colleges with an enrollment of 1000 to 2499.

An increased interest on the part of college and university year-book staffs was evidenced in the 1928 All-American contest. A total of 145 books in this division were entered. This is an increase of 76.8 percent over the figures for previous years.

The Montanan, Montana State college year book, received first class honor rating in the senior division for colleges with an enrollment of 500 to 999.

All Classes Excused for Convocation at 10 o'clock.

Cameron Beck, personnel director of the New York Stock Exchange, will address the students of the university at a convocation tomorrow at 10 o'clock. All classes will be excused to give the students opportunity to hear Mr. Beck who has a deep insight into the problems confronting the youth of today.

The personnel department of the New York Stock Exchange over which Mr. Beck presides maintains an institute headed by college professors which gives courses in business economics, finance, and allied subjects. It maintains athletic teams, a small clinic and medical service. Mr. Beck's particular work in the clinic is the placing of boys in junior positions on the stock exchange. In this work he places a thousand boys yearly.

In 1927 Mr. Beck made a tour of fourteen states, during which time he lectured to ninety thousand high school students. Some of his lectures were on the subjects "Building a Bigger Tomorrow" and "The Cost of Leadership."

Honor System?

NO subject has been so generally and thoroughly discussed in the colleges this year as the honor system at examinations.

The system has fallen out of favor and has been abolished in many colleges. The main difficulty seems to be that students are unwilling to act as policemen over their fellow students, although they are willing enough to vouch for their own individual honesty.

Several schools that have gone back to their old systems have ceased to believe that the honor method offers any advantage to students.

Certainly cheating under faculty supervision is no more justified than cheating under student supervision. To us there seems to be no more honor—or lack of honor—in one system than in the other.

The greatest obstacle for a successful honor system is the fact that only a few

"MY LIFE WITH THE ESKIMO"
"THE FRIENDLY ARCTIC"

By Vilhjalmur Stefansson.
McMillan, New York.

One may not know how much effect the "strong man coming out of the North" would have, at least upon the field of scientific information. But one is rather over-awed at the effect upon scientific information that this strong man going into the North has had and will have upon the fund of ethnic knowledge of the world.

Of course even an outline of the valuable information one gleams out of Stefansson is impossible in an ordinary review. Suffice it so say and redundantly at that, Stefansson is one of the big figures in the fields of physical and scientific discovery today. He not only knows the North but he has lived it and thus explains it. One is at a loss to give even high-lights so one will have to indulge in interesting if meagre details.

First he explodes the theory of the "cold, relentless North." The North is friendly and if the trend of civilization is northward there is a surprisingly fine welcome awaiting it there. There is food and natural resources as gigantic as they are still unestimated.

Now into the trivia: reading a paragraph like this one is prone to exclaim, "What, no spinach!"

"The longer you go without grain foods and vegetables the less you long for them." He even says that salt is no necessity. As a matter of fact, after six months without salt he found meat boiled in salt water distinctly disagreeable. That much for the salt of life.

Or again, he is going to tell about the Eskimo but he makes no pretense at knowing him "like a book"; "I am no better at reading Eskimo character than I am at reading that of my own countrymen." Truth, like salt, if it is really not necessary certainly adds stings to a narrative.

Another thing one notices in his book queer; in his study of men, he finds the motives behind the actions of dogs, at least more trustworthy or it may be he means that dogs have no motives. One may judge from his words: "When he came to die (a dog) I lost my best friend in the world whom I shall never forget."

How many times have we read of strange, hard adventures in the North. To be frozen to death seemed logical unless one kept moving or rubbed the frozen parts with snow—to avoid death by freezing. Well, Stefansson's suggestion is that the way-lost traveler in the blizzard brush a spot clean of snow, sit down to keep his hands and feet warm and take a snooze until the storm is over.

These as we said are trivia, but interesting. Another is Stefansson's theory of the "blond Eskimo."

To get at the fundamental wealth of interesting fact and material, the reviewer can only urge the potential reader to go through these books slowly and carefully. There are surprises of untold distinction and im-

Communication

To the Editor of the Kaimin:

I wish to praise E. S. on his excellent communication to the Kaimin which appeared in the issue of Friday, November 23. His criticism of the injustice of fraternity and sorority monopoly of the entire range of offices and extra-curricular activities was entirely justified. E. S. is not the only member of the student body of the State University of Montana, however, who saw a challenge in those words "For the men and women of fraternities and sororities," which was one of the headings of a Homecoming announcement which appeared in a recent issue of the Kaimin. Such an innocent, well-meaning announcement is a challenge to every barb on the campus of this State University. Such an announcement is more than a challenge—it is a piece of bitter reproach. It mocks the barb; it shows him his true position in the society of this University. Any barb with a spark of school spirit in him could hardly be expected to allow such an affront to pass by unnoticed.

In writing this communication to the Kaimin the writer is spurred on by a deeply felt patriotism for this University—by school spirit. In fact he would, as a barb, hold himself in low regard indeed if he did not respond to this perhaps unintentional but none the less obnoxious affront to the barbs of this campus—this insinuation that they lack school spirit.

Perhaps the barb may seem to lack school spirit, but he does not lack it. It is merely his means of expressing his school spirit that he lacks. Why, because the activities through which he could express his interest and love for the school are not open to him—they are controlled by the Greek social groups of the campus. He is not a member of any similar organization, therefore he cannot possibly have as great an opportunity to express his school spirit as an individual in a fraternity or sorority has. The barb has no backing. He has no one to encourage him to participate in school activities; no one to advise him in them, no one to console him when he fails. Furthermore he cannot break into such activities for lack of fraternal connections, while the Greek has such affiliations who pull him into activities, notwithstanding the fact that the activity may not be entirely to his liking. Thus we have the possibility of having activities carried out and offices held by persons who will not, through lack of interest, give their whole-hearted efforts to their tasks, but hold their positions merely because their fraternity or sorority are required to make it a failure. Those few can always be found in the average student body.

But, certainly, some improvement can be made with the system that our University now uses.

Already.

IN this issue of the Kaimin will be found the announcement of advance registration for the winter quarter. In this issue too, will be found the announcement of the inter-class basketball tournament and the story of the last football game of the year.

These things should make us realize that the first quarter of the year is practically over; and that there is very little time left for study. Those who have seriously studied during the quarter will have little to worry about these last weeks.

Those who have not—well while we do not believe in cramming we do believe that it is better late than never.

In this issue of The Kaimin will also be found a schedule of examinations.

Take a look at it. Smile if you are among the elect.

Get to work if you are behind.

A Good Rule.

AT the last meeting of Central Board a rule was passed forbidding the sticking of posters on the steps or walls of buildings and on the senior bench.

This is a good rule and should be observed by all organizations on the campus.

Events can be adequately advertised without indiscriminant plastering of stick-ers.

And certainly the appearance of the senior bench during the homecoming celebration could not have been pleasing to visiting alumni.

measurable values awaiting him. To have read Stefansson is educational but one imagines to have read him and had personal contact with him as well, would be cultural.

In conclusion the following may be bromide but this time distinctly true: these are books to have and to hold.

She stood before him like a queen

And raged in indignation,

While he stood there so small and lean

In silent resignation.

Take back your heart, she blurted out!

From anger all aquiver,

Take back your heart, you silly lout,

You heard me order liver.

STATISTICS NOT WORTH REMEMBERING.

If all the students who have eight o'clock classes were hauled out of bed at six in the morning and placed side by side they would stretch—

Wah-hoo-kai'pong-fu-sing signifies "no" in Chinese.

If all the cigarettes smoked on the campus in a single week were piled one on top of another they would probably fall over.

I DO.

Sure I like the school,

I like my Profs,

I think the Grizzly great.

I like the men,

I like the girls,

I like my every date.

But the Profs don't know I like 'em,

And the co-eds, they don't care,

And I seem to be a class misfit

For my grade point column's bare.

I noticed that Mary Hartwick wrote a Salt and Pepper story that was accepted by the Frontier. I taught her all that I knew and after all of my valuable teachings, she has not made herself clear. One does not know whether she is writing about white pepper, red pepper, cheyenne pepper or writing pepper. She has also failed to emphasize the essential part of my teachings and that is, the introduction of the story. That, for baby authors is the vital part. She did start out with a bang, but then, one can bang in any introduction and as for the maelstrom that followed—well, what of it—she could have had a rain storm, wind storm or any other kind of storm. That is what I want to teach all of you baby authors now. Stop lapping your milk; put your bottle away. The three types of introductions that I shall try to bother you with are:

The Mysterious Introduction.

"If Marmaduke Fitz Williams had not sneezed at precisely seven minutes to three; if Adoree de la Rue had not bought a bag of peanuts; if the Fitz Williams butler had not stopped to tie his shoe lace in a revolving door—but oh, I am running ahead of my story."

You can now go ahead and tell your tale. This introduction has the advantage of baffling your readers, if any. You don't have to explain the above actions. You don't even have to have a character named Fitz Williams unless you so desire.

The Western Introduction.

"Drag Harlen leaped out of his cabin, his six-barreled horse pistol belching death as he leaped. A dangerous gleam was in his eyes as he snarled, 'Ya'd kill me on sight, ya would, would ya?' An even more dangerous gleam was in his eyes as he fanned the trigger with lightning speed. 'That for Daisy Duffy, and that for Rose Redfield, and that for Pansy Perkins.' With each 'that' a man pitched to the ground, dead, or practically dead."

The only thing necessary to write an introduction like that is a knowledge of floriculture. Every Western girl must have a flowery first name.

The Society Introduction.

"Claybourn Overturn Tillingsbury stepped out of his palatial residence and put on his hat. There was nothing unusual in this action. He put on his hat daily."

Now go on and tell why he felt different. The charm of this introduction lies in its easy and informal meaningfulness. The reader does not have to think; the author does not have to think; nobody has to think. And then the cupboard opened and a dead man fell out and nobody knew where the organ music came from.

H. L. G.

Roll up your sleeves, children, and listen hard while Uncle Lazarus tells you a nifty. It seems that two persons met and started a conversation.

One says, "How was your breakfast at the Blue Parrot Sunday morning?"

And the other one yelps, "Oh, waffle!" Johnny, you stay and fill the inkwells.

Which reminds us, the following conversation was heard just before election:

"Say, are you fer Hoofer?"

"Yeah, I'm fer Hoofer."

"Fine. So'm I. That makes two fer Hoofer."

Hampden's Noble Experiment

By Roland Holt.

they have married, and are in a "Pleasure Palace," indicated by columns, garlands and lanterns. But Ananda lurks like a snake. He has managed to get a moaning leper through the guards. The man staggers into the festal scene. Siddhartha is both horrified and pitying and, as regardless of infection as is the author, lifts the man up and gives him a drink. Then he leaves him groaning in the shadows. The courtiers have fled. Out of the night come four white figures, bearing a fifth on a stretcher. It is Siddhartha's beloved jester, stabbed to the heart. The king storms in. "Why have the guards let these horrors through?" Of course Ananda deplores it, and does not know. After a solo Indian dance and a very monotonous authentic song, father and wife feel that Siddhartha's gloomy thoughts have been diverted but when the prince is alone, he calls his faithful General Channa and goes out to the mountain, where he may meditate on the riddle of existence.

Act III shows Siddhartha acquiring merit and, at the end of seven years (though in that same act) become the holy Gautama. In a first scene on the road for no particular reason he submits to a severe scourging by fanatics, and in the second picture, where he meditates under a great tree, they starve him, quarrel with and leave him. Some women bring him highly efficacious hot milk. Left alone again, he is assailed by the hosts of Hell, led by a Black Crook Devil, and armed with tridents, but respectfully keeping their distance from their star. As fear cannot move him, temptation is tried, but as the ladies wear pigtails and obvious fleshings, and seem a bit like a Sunday school doing a Biblical play, Gautama's resistance to their allure unfortunately, does not indicate any great amount of saintliness, but when he banishes them by calling out "Nirvana," and the brass peals magnificently a la Parsifal, it warms the heart, even though one is left quite unable to remember any of Buddha's great thoughts.

EARTH WON'T DIE YET

New York.—(IP)—The earth will continue to exist for at least a billion more years, Dr. Robert A. Millikan, of the California Institute of Technology told a gathering of business men here recently. Millikan, who is recognized as the leading American physicist, having been awarded the Nobel Prize for research in isolating the electron, also told the business men that "science, pure science, is the father of all modern industry."

Tribulations of a Poor Downtrodden Stude.

Last night I stood on a corner, waiting for a car to carry me downtown, although it really wasn't far. I waited 20 minutes 'till at last one came along with a rattle and a whistle, and a stampin' of the gong. I found that there was only one seat left that wasn't taken and I thought that I'd appropriate it, but it seems I was mistaken. The car proceeded one more block and then a good-sized gang of fair co-eds got on the car and I suffered quite a pang when they all turned their eyes on me; yet still I held my seat. The glances all informed me that I should hop to my feet. I kept my eyes upon the floor as long as I was able, and then I cast 'em up above, to watch the trolley cable. Finally, though, they got my goat with their infernal glances, and I drew out my cigarettes and wondered how the chances were of smoking on the platform in the rear of that blamed car; anything to get away from those females that jar one's confidence in humans to such a great extent that one wants to get so far away they won't know where one went. These women fight to beat the Dutch to be on equal terms with men, in fact they really think that they're above the worms. They've now acquired the right to vote and many other things; they've abused a lot of privileges that were once only for Kings. But of all the foolish things men do, their most persistent folly is to rise and give a dame a seat on an overcrowded trolley.

R. O. T. C. WOULD INTRODUCE RIFLERY AS A MINOR SPORT

Local Team Competes In Corps Area Match.

An effort is being made by the Military department to have rifle marksmanship made a minor sport. Such an action, it is believed, would be a great aid in arousing interest and would entail very little expense.

Last year the R. O. T. C. team competed with schools throughout the United States in the National Intercollegiate match. The University team beat the teams from the University of Idaho, Wyoming, California, Nevada, Utah and Oregon. The following schools have given rifle marksmanship recognition as a minor sport:

University of Idaho, University of Nevada, University of Washington, University of Pennsylvania, Pennsylvania State college, University of Pittsburgh, Rutgers, Syracuse, University of Vermont, Western Maryland, Georgia School of Technology, Alabama Polytechnic, University of Tennessee, Mississippi A. and M., Creighton, University of Iowa, Iowa State college, Michigan State college, University of Missouri, University of Nebraska, University of North Dakota, Ohio State university, University of South Dakota.

Campaign Planned.

In planning a campaign for this year the R. O. T. C. is working in conjunction with the freshman class in marksmanship. The bulk of last year's team came from this freshman class. Freshmen are scheduled for rifle marksmanship 3 hours a week for the first 5 weeks of the winter quarter. Those desiring to try out for the team will be requested to come out daily at the beginning of the quarter and will be given credit for the hours put in. The gallery will be open for practice every day from 9 to 5 o'clock.

After the first three weeks of the winter quarter the sophomores, juniors and seniors will be asked to join the squad.

Wide Competition.

Montana's team competes with all the schools in Montana, Idaho, Wyoming, Washington, Oregon, California, Utah and Nevada in the Corps Area match. The six highest teams in each of the nine corps areas in the United States compete in the National match. Those who placed in the match last year were: Ashbaugh, Alling, Baty, Burbank, Derrenger, Fallman, Hay, Page, Koch, Shearer, Wheatley, Cooper, Benjamin.

Standings of Teams.

The standings of the teams in the Ninth Corps Area were as follows: (1) Oregon Agriculture college, first team; (2) University of Washington; (3) Oregon Agriculture college, second team; (4) University of California at Los Angeles, first team; (5) University of Montana; (6) University of Idaho; (7) Montana State college; (8) California Institution of Technology; (9) University of California, first team; (10) University of Wyoming.

Prospects for a winning team are good for this year with the following men eligible: Ashbaugh, Grover, Derrenger, Shearer, Sager, Baty, Hay, Wheatley, Alling, Cooper, Keaton, Leavitt, Linke, Lockwood, Bell, Besancon, Fetterly, A. Grover, Bland, Dunn, Flood, Forsen, Gilbert, Good, Grande, Hegland, Haverfield, Holmes, Keach, McKenzie, Midtling, Marks, Rathert, Schoonover, Simpson, Sherick, Stocking, Simmons, Thomas, Thrallkill, Venekolt, Wetterling, Winter, Woodcock, Foley.

DOPE UPSET IN MILES CITY WIN

Custer county high school of Miles City started the football fans of Montana Thanksgiving day at Butte by rising and smacking down Butte high 20-6. Custer led 10-0 at the half and then smashed the mining city team to run up ten more points when everybody expected the favorite to come back and romp home as they did against Great Falls the previous week. The Miles City team had been invited to play for the title after Billings had withdrawn because of financial difficulties.

Outstanding in the Custer attack was the kicking of Smith and the general play of Regan, Captain Bennett and Brown in the line. Brown broke through to block a number of Butte kicks while Bennett and Regan, ends, snagged passes and stood off Butte running plays. Ball, Sullivan, Erickson and Nevin stood out for Butte.

Both teams are coached by graduates of Montana University who starred as athletes while in school. "Swede" Dahlberg is at the helm of Butte High while Miles City has his brother "Jiggs" as head coach and Sam Kain as his assistant.

WONDERFUL FUTURE.

Cleveland, Ohio.—The city of the future will be built on four or five levels, one for each class of traffic, but no one will live in it. The people will live in suburbs as far as 100 miles away and come to their work by airplanes and underground trains in less time than it takes to get downtown from the residential sections today.

Food will no longer be produced by growing plants, but in factories with the aid of sunlight.

People will no longer attend theaters, but will enjoy plays in their own living rooms through the perfection of radio and television.

The energy of the sun will be harnessed directly to machinery and the labor problem will be solved by abolishing labor. However, a leisure problem may ensue.

These are a few of the things we may expect in the 21st century through the activities of modern science, according to Professor David Dietz, science editor of the Cleveland Press.

KING'S GRATITUDE STILL PAID

University of British Columbia—(IP)—The story of a King's gratitude to an English girl who, nearly 300 years ago, saved his life, is still being told by an annuity which to this day is being paid to a Professor of English here.

Semi-annually the Canadian professor receives nine pound five shillings and six pence from the British government. Two elderly book-sellers in Vancouver are almost as interested in the ancient pension as Dr. Francis E. Waljer himself is, for he always spends the money with them.

It is an old story in his family, one that is passed on from father to son, and it tells of a girl ancestor of his who hid the son of Charles I. of England when he was in danger from the Roundheads.

STUDENT ARREST.

Palo Alto, Cal.—(IP)—A University of California student was one of four persons arrested here for carrying "red" banners when President-elect Herbert Hoover reached here on his way to board the Maryland for his South American "good-will" hour.

THE FLOATING UNIVERSITY.

New York.—The Floating University, after a lapse of one year in activities, is a fact again this year. The university sailed here this month with 120 students aboard, to return here June 11, after sailing round the world.

In spite of protests, the university is again co-educational.

CLOTHES TO BE LEFT ALONE.

Akron, Ohio.—Taboo was placed by the student council of the University of Akron on deliberate stripping of clothes from opponents in the annual freshman-sophomore scrap here. Ultimatum went out that whoever was found guilty of pulling clothes from an opponent would thereby lose the contest for his class.

REVISE HONOR SYSTEM.

Middletown, Conn.—Extensive revision of the Honor System is being undertaken by the students at Wesleyan university here. A number of students have signed a petition stating that if the honor system is not abolished they will report all infractions to their fraternity presidents or the honor system committee, or approach the offender on the subject.

A NEW "THOU SHALT NOT"

Wellesley, Mass.—The latest "thou shalt not" rule has been issued by the dean of Wellesley college. It states that no student of the college shall ride in an airplane without permission from the office of the dean and the written consent of the parents. It is not stated what difficulty is most prevalent in airplane riding, but it is suspected that proper chaperonage is not possible in the air.

TRY TO REORGANIZE COUNCIL.

New Haven, Conn.—A formal call has been issued to the president of every fraternity on the Yale campus to appear in an effort to reorganize the interfraternity council lately disappeared. The fraternities have been subjected to severe criticism by the Yale Daily News and the Yale Alumni Weekly during the past few weeks.

"Underworld" Dancing Party

Active members of Sigma Chi were hosts to the pledges at an "Underworld" dancing party given at the old country club Wednesday evening. The hall was cleverly decorated to carry out the spirit of the party. The costumes of the dancers added color. Refreshments were served over the bar and The Rhythm Beaters furnished the music.

Several members of the Sigma Chi alumni chapter and their wives and Mrs. Frank Keith were chaperones.

Barristers Ball

Students of the Law School gave their annual Barristers Ball at the Elks Temple Saturday evening. Two special numbers added enjoyment to the evening. A mock trial was given by members of the Law School and Miss Elinor Larson gave a dancing number. The programs were in the form of a contract entered into by the dancing partners, and the invitations were in the nature of subpoenas.

During the evening telegrams were received from Chancellor Brannon, Chief Justice Calloway and Dean Leaphart.

The chaperones and guests of honor were Dean and Mrs. Walter L. Pope, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Whitlock, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Toole, Mr. and Mrs. David R. Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Murray and Miss Charlotte Russell.

Marriage Announced

Announcement has been received of the marriage of Miss Lucile Rector, a former student, and Harold Day of Boise, Idaho. Miss Rector was a graduate from the University in the class of '27 and while here was a member of Alpha Xi Delta and Sigma Alpha Iota. She has since been supervisor of music in the public schools of Colville, Idaho. Mr. and Mrs. Day will make their home in Boise.

Installation Ball

The annual installation ball of the Delta Delta Delta sorority was held Wednesday evening at the Elks Temple. The hall was attractively decorated in silver, gold and blue and the main feature was a large crest carried out in colors. Billfold programs were given as favors. About fifty couple enjoyed the dance music furnished by Maury's orchestra. Representatives from each sorority were invited.

The chaperones were Dean Harriet Sedman, Lieut. and Mrs. H. L. LaCroix and Mrs. Reynolds.

"Turkey Trot"

Members of the Forestry club held their fall informal dance, the "Turkey Trot," in the Women's gym Friday night, November 30. About sixty couples attended. Dean and Mrs. T. C. Spaulding and Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Cook were the chaperones.

Helen Gleason, professor in the Home Economics department at the State University, had for her guest at dinner Monday evening, Dr. Jessie Richardson of Bozeman.

Lauretta Wells of Potomac was a week end guest at the Alpha Xi Delta house.

Mr. and Mrs. Carel Wilson were dinner guests at the Alpha Xi Delta house Thanksgiving.

Zelma Hay of Great Falls and a former student of the University, is a guest at the Delta Delta Delta house.

MT. ST. CHARLES STATE CHAMPS

Mount St. Charles college of Helena acquired a claim to the state football title Thanksgiving day by soundly trouncing Montana State at Sheridan, Wyo., 19-0. By virtue of the tie game between the Bobcats and Grizzlies the Saints call themselves state champions and probably are as far as comparative scores go regardless of the University-Gonzaga outcome on the same day.

St. Charles set out at the beginning of the game to show which team was superior. Good's fine generalship and Gehausen's fine punting stood out in the Helena team's attack. Robinson at center led a line that continually smothered Bobcat threats. Brace, at half, also stood out.

This game marked the end of the season for both teams, both finishing with a successful season. The Helena team lost only to Gonzaga University of Spokane, this team being acclaimed the Catholic champions of the West. Montana State (trimmed Idaho University, held Nebraska to a low score, tied Montana University and won three and lost two in the Rocky Mountain conference.

Garbo

Cleopatra Had Nothing On Modern Queen.

Yes, Cleopatra knew her stuff; she knocked 'em for a goal. She deposed our Julius Caesar and she copped Mark Antony's roll. She knew the ins and outs of dress (rather more OUT than in); she wasn't so moral, we confess, but she had her man to win! But if Cleo were alive today, alas! She'd die of shame at the way this Garbo woman has acquired her road to fame. If Cleo had met our Greta she'd have learned a thing or two about the art of making fools of men who come to woo. She'd have found herself deserted by her husband and her Mark—they'd have traveled on to Hollywood, at the movie gates to bark. Rome would be without a leader, and perhaps without a man. Immigration laws would hardly keep the crowd from movie land. When Greta's physiognomy appears upon the screen, with those droopy, dreamy eye-lids, I think it's downright mean that we should be compelled to sit and act so unconcerned when for many long, long years we've sat and yearned and yearned and yearned to break into the movies as Miss Garbo's leading man and have her drop all over us as we all know she can. "Would be nice if Cleopatra could come back for a short while, and learn to do her loving in the Greta Garbo style.

SPANISH CLUB MEETS TONIGHT

B. E. Thomas Will Speak About Mexico.

Members of the Spanish club will hold their last meeting of the quarter at the Delta Gamma house, 516 University avenue, at 7:30 this evening.

The main feature of this evening's program will be a talk on "Mexico" by Professor B. E. Thomas, head of the Spanish Department. Mr. Thomas has recently visited Mexico and has much of interest to students of Spanish.

An interesting Spanish mixer has been planned to provide entertainment while the guests are arriving, and an attractive prize will be awarded the winner of the contest.

A short farce, "Pocas Palabras," written and directed by Cecile Virginia Soghrue, instructor in Spanish, will be presented in Spanish. The "Senorita" is to be played by Emily Hurst, and the "Senor" by Glenn Lockwood.

Miss Soghrue has written a number of short plays and farces, many of which have been presented, and she will write and direct various productions for the Spanish club during the winter quarter.

Elizabeth Frye and Harriett MacPherson, in charge of refreshments, promise "grand and glorious groceries."

TED RULE WITHDRAWS FROM THE UNIVERSITY

Ted Rule, a member of the Grizzly football squad, has withdrawn from school for the remainder of the quarter because of the death of his father. He will return at the beginning of the winter term and it is expected he will join the basketball team at that time. Ted won his letter in the latter sport last winter and in the gridiron sport this fall.

Gentlemen:

As my Christmas present I purchased for myself a pound of your tobacco (Edgeworth) in 1/2 lb. flat tin. This morning on the train I met a man with whom I am only slightly acquainted, and filling my pipe produced your tin, at which he exclaimed: "I am not a pipe smoker, but occasionally I have a try in that direction and I consider that the tobacco in your hand is the finest made."

I am in entire agreement with his statement.

Big Inter-Class Basketball Tournament Commences Today

SENIORS MEET FROSH IN MEN'S GYMNASIUM THIS AFTERNOON

Will Be First Game OF Basketball Tournament.

Inter-class basketball tournament will start this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the men's gymnasium with the seniors meeting the frosh at this time. This game will be followed by the sophomore-junior contest which promises to be unusually hard fought as each team is considered a championship threat.

The junior team, that won the title last year when playing under the banner of the sophomore class, are strong favorites to repeat. The third year men will have "Bub" Rankin, varsity guard; "Harp" Kilroy, varsity guard in 1926; "Feet" Lewis, varsity guard; "Sox" Stocking, a new member; Clifton Rohlfis, another newcomer to Montana; and "Jack" Doherty, varsity guard.

Strong Senior Quint.

However, the seniors will present a strong aggregation of varsity men led by Cloyse Overturf, joint-captain of the 1928 varsity. Others to appear in the lineup are Louis Wendt, present captain; Eddie Chinske, a regular last year; "Red" Brown, varsity forward; "Shorty" Huber, Tom Davis, Gordy Rognlein, Jimmy Morrow and Cal Pierce. The sophomores will have a flock of prospective varsity men in suit and appear to have a good chance to cop the bunting. "Billy" Rohlfis, Johnny Lewis, Ray Lyon, "Fats" Thraill, Lockwood, Cooper, Rathert, Carey and Carpenter will be in the combination that may prove to be the dark-horse of the tourney. In addition there will also be "Finn" Dvorak, a numeral man from Oregon University, and Howard Busch, a Minnesota boy with considerable ability at flipping baskets.

The lineup of the freshman team is yet uncertain but if the frosh follow in the footsteps of the past yearling squads the upper-class men will have no cinch when meeting the yearlings.

EASTERN LEADERS EASILY DEFEATED BY WEST'S TEAMS

Southern California Heads Pacific Coast Standings.

Football has again faded into oblivion and like a last week cartoon pictured, the world will be round again instead of oval.

Coast conference standings are completed and the mighty Trojan of Southern California rules the Western football world with a great team that boasts two All-American men in Captain Jesse Hibbs, tackle, and Dymric Don Williams, quarterback.

Last Saturday Kinute Rocke and his band of Notre Dame players rambled out of Troy and rambled back again to South Bend with 14 points to strike against the 27 made by the men of Howard Jones. It was the first victory for the Trojan in three starts against the Ramblers. In 1926 the score at the whistle stood 13 to 12 and again in Chicago last year Notre Dame took a 7-to-6 victory. The game leaves Southern California with a claim to national recognition with no defeats and one tie to their credit.

On the same afternoon in New York, Stanford University took on the Army and defeated them 26 to 0 in a one sided game that showed the supremacy of Pop Warner's men in every phase of football. Captain Biff Hoffman, fullback, Hainke, center, Post and Robesky, guards, and Frentrop, Sims and Wilton, halfbacks, starred for Stanford at her greatest heights. Red Cagle was again the big gun of the Army.

Thanksgiving day in New York City, Oregon State ran over and around New York University for a stunning 25 to 13 upset victory. The huge white clad team from the far West were hailed as Galloping Ghosts by Eastern sport writers. Their attack led by Howard Maple, Honolulu Hughes and Sherwood proved too much for Chick Meehan's Violet team, and although Ken Strong, All-American probability at halfback, played brilliantly, he could not stem the tide from the Pacific.

On the coast the University of Washington defeated Washington State, 6 to 0. Montana defeated Gonzaga 7 to 0 and Oregon turned back U. C. L. A. 26 to 6. The University of Detroit overwhelmed Georgetown 33 to 13 to claim honors as one of the three teams which have gone through the present season undefeated and untied. Boston College also defeated and untied, defeated Holy Cross 19 to 0. Georgia Tech has the same record. Tennessee and Florida are on the undefeated column although not impressive.

California and Georgia Tech are slated to play the annual Rose Bowl game at Pasadena on New Year's day. Georgia Tech has had a wonderful record and comes West for the first time. California under Nibs Price had a fine season with no defeats and two tie games on their books. They played Southern California, conquerors of Stanford, 0 to 0 and in the big game played Stanford 13 to 13. Georgia Tech boasts of an All-American back in Mizell, who has flashed across southern gridirons in star like fashion all season. California has some wonderful performers in Captain Irving Phillips, a choice for All-American end, Steve Baueroff, tackle, Rus Avery, end, and Benny Lom, halfback.

Although two games remain, the East-West and California-Georgia Tech contests. The Pacific Coast conference has finished its schedule with Southern California the recognized champion with four victories, one tie and no defeats. California the only other undefeated team was twice tied, first by Southern California and later by Stanford.

Final standings:

W. L. T. Pct.
Southern California	4 0 1 1.000
California	3 0 2 1.000
Stanford	4 1 1 .800
Oregon	4 2 0 .667
Washington State	4 3 0 .571
Idaho	2 3 0 .400
Oregon State	2 3 0 .400
Washington	2 4 0 .333
U. C. L. A.	0 4 0 .000
Montana	0 5 0 .000

SPORT SPURTS

The state championship game at Butte was unusual in that the teams were coached by brothers, "Swede" and "Jiggs" Dahlberg. A few years ago Howard Jones, present U. S. C. mentor, took his University of Iowa team to Yale for a game with the aggregation coached by his brother Tad. The Westerner was victorious in a history-making battle.

The state high schools are seemingly arranging themselves with either the Billings or the Butte faction. The former group contends the state championship feature should be passed around the state while the latter faction believes the money to be made in Butte justifies its remaining there.

Intra-mural sports for the winter season will open today when the inter-class and South Hall teams swing into action. These games, particularly the former, will afford a splendid opportunity for University students to see coming Varsity stars in action as all athletes in school are eligible. It is hoped that a little interest will be shown by members of the various classes as to the fate of their respective teams.

Football in Montana is a ghost as far as 1928 is concerned. However, the South and Far West still have games of national importance coming up.

Coach J. W. Stewart of the Grizzly basketball team will take charge of his squad immediately upon his return from Los Angeles and start whipping it into shape for the strenuous season.

With all the commotion being made over the state title game there is just a possibility that both factions are going in the wrong direction. At best it is a cumbersome task to annually decide the state championship and never leaves everybody satisfied. A large number of schools are discarding the championship idea altogether, Wisconsin and Nebraska being among the latest to take this step.

Halfback Smith of Custer high school gave a splendid demonstration of drop-kicking at Butte in the title go. He kicked two field goals and was successful in two attempts after touchdowns. This is more goal kicking than was seen in a large majority of big-time football games this fall.

FIGHTING GRIZZLIES WIN FROM STRONG BULLDOG ELEVEN, 7-0

Ekegren Goes Over For Score in Second Period.

Montana, playing its last game of the season, broke into the winning column again when it defeated the Gonzaga Bulldogs 7-0 in the Thanksgiving day game at Spokane. It was a hard fought struggle throughout, the only score of the game coming late in the second period when the Grizzlies recovered a fumbled punt on Gonzaga's 25 yard line and in six plays put the ball over, a pass from Chinske to Davis converting the extra point.

First Period.
Gonzaga, winning the toss, elected to kick and Chinske returned Ralls' boot to Montana's 26 yard line. Chinske and Morrow gained through the line, but the Grizzlies drew a 15 yard penalty and Morrow punted to McGrath who was forced out of bounds on his 32 yard line. After gaining but four yards in three plays the Bulldogs punted to Chinske who returned to his 38 yard line. Ekegren made 12 on a fake lateral pass, after which three line bucks netted as many yards and Davis kicked to McGrath who was downed on his 28 yard line.

Following line bucks by Ralls and Smith, Gonzaga punted but Montana was penalized for roughing the kicker and the Bulldogs regained possession of the ball on Montana's 47 yard line for first down. Gonzaga advanced the ball to the Grizzly 30 yard line where they were stopped and forced to kick to Montana's 12 yard line. Davis punted to his 40 yard line. Jovick made 13 on an end run and on the next play, Ryan, Montana center, intercepted a Bulldog pass and was downed on his 25 yard line. Line buck and a five yard penalty on Gonzaga gave Montana first down and the quarter ended with Montana in possession of the ball on her 36 yard line.

Second Period.
Failing to gain, Montana kicked to Gonzaga's 24 yard line. The Bulldogs opened up with an attack that advanced the ball to the Grizzly 30 yard line, where the Montana defense tightened and the ball went over on downs. Runs by Chinske and Morrow advanced the ball to Gonzaga's 44 yard line where a penalty and a five yard loss forced Davis to punt. The ball struck a Gonzaga player and Rognlien, substitute Grizzly end, recovered the ball, giving Montana first down on Gonzaga's 24 yard line. Morrow made two over left guard and Chinske made seven through the same hole. Ekegren hit the line for first down on the Bulldog 10 yard line. Chinske carried the ball to the one inch line in two tries and Ekegren drove through for a score. Chinske passed to Davis for the extra point.

An exchange of kicks followed the touchdown, and Gonzaga started a drive that stopped on the Grizzly 23 yard line when the half ended.

Third Period.
Montana kicked off and Gonzaga, headed by Ralls, marched down the field with a series of passes and runs that ended when the fighting Grizzlies held the Spokane team for downs on their one yard line. Davis punted to his 21 yard line and the Bulldogs were again held for downs, Montana taking the ball on her 20 yard line. An exchange of punts followed and Gonzaga took the ball on her 35 yard line.

Ralls broke through the entire Montana team for a 55 yard run, but was overtaken by Chinske and downed on Montana's eight yard line. Ralls skirted end and crossed the goal on the second play, but was called back and Gonzaga was penalized 15 yards for holding. Montana was given the ball on her 20 yard line after Ralls received a pass out of bounds and the third period ended.

Fourth Period.
During the final period, Gonzaga attempted time and again to complete passes and break through for a score, but Coach Milburn's men put up a wonderful defense, and thwarted all of the Bulldog's efforts. Late in the quarter, Chinske intercepted a Gonzaga pass on his goal line and advanced the ball five yards before being downed. The game ended with Montana in possession of the ball on her 20 yard line. Score, Montana 7, Gonzaga 0. Montana, led by Captain Chinske, whose cool generalship was a feature of the game, showed great defensive ability, and gained ground when it was most needed although they played largely a defensive game after the score was made.

The whole Grizzly line played to perfection, especially Ryan, reserve center who capably filled the gap left by Lewis, who was seriously ill during the game. Chinske, Morrow and Ekegren were consistent ground grinders, while Mellinger played a good game on defense. Ralls, halfback, and Walterskirchen, guard, starred for Gonzaga.
